School Philosophy

Fishes and Loaves Vocational and Literacy Center (FLVC), a division of Fishes and Loaves Outreach Ministries, approaches training and provision of services within a holistic career pathway bridging model connecting the student to educational and career opportunities. These opportunities lead to gainful employment and a quality lifestyle. The mission of Fishes & Loaves Outreach Ministries is to stabilize individuals by providing a pathway to job opportunities and careers by breaking the cycle of poverty, illiteracy, and intergenerational criminal activity and intergenerational governmental dependency. We provide non-traditional educational opportunities in a manner that will enhance the dignity of each student and make every effort to provide supportive services that enable an individual to acquire knowledge and skills that last a lifetime. FLVC assists people in their quest for economic independence. The staff at FLVC is committed to making a difference, by providing a friendly and supportive quality training environment. The training center models the workplace, and fosters the learning of appropriate employee skills and employer-preferred work ethics. FLVC staff collaborate with community employers in their search for skilled and motivated employees to enhance the productivity, quality, and diversity of an employer's workforce. Empowering individuals strengthen the community's economy and social structure.

Admission Policies and Procedures

The admission process at FLVC is selective. Each applicant must submit a complete application to be considered. Generally, applicants for the training center must demonstrate that they will be able to benefit from the vocational training programs and/or adult continuing education classes in which they are enrolled. The specific goal of the vocational training programs is to prepare applicants for employment or to enhance their employability. Job placement is the desired outcome of all programs, and job placement services are available free of charge to applicants. Specific requirements and academic prerequisites for individual courses and programs are described in other sections of this catalog. It is the policy of FLVC not to discriminate on the basis of gender, sexual preference, age, handicap, race, color, religion, marital status, or national and ethnic origin in its educational programs, admissions policies, employment policies, or other school administered programs. The confidentiality of student academic records is maintained in accordance with the Family Educational Right and Privacy Act of 1974, as amended.

I. BASIC NURSING ASSISTANT PROGRAM -BNATP

The Basic Nursing Assistant Training Program (BNAT) prepares a person to take the certification exam which is necessary to become a BASIC Certified Nursing Assistant (BNAT) in the State of Illinois. The program design prepares qualified individuals to be safe, caring, and effective nursing assistants who work under the supervision of qualified health care professionals. Trained BNAs perform at a minimum entry level in positions normally available in hospitals, nursing homes, and home health agencies. This program presents basic nursing assistant principles' as well as providing opportunities for practice and demonstration of skills related to patient care. The students' time is divided between on-line classroom instructions, in person laboratory time, and supervised experience in the nursing home and/or hospital settings (Clinical). Upon meeting graduation requirements of the BNAT, the student is entitled to a Basic Nursing Assistant certificate and is eligible to take the nurse aide competency evaluations as required by federal and state legislation.
